17 Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

19 Section 1. The Administrative Code is hereby amended by adding Chapter 110,
20 consisting of Sections 110.1 through 110.8, to read as follows:

22 CHAPTER 110: FORGIVABLE LOAN FOR FIRST-TIME HOMEBUYERS

23 SEC. 110.1. FINDINGS.

24 (a) The economic and social disparities associated with homeownership access and housing
25 instability in San Francisco are well-established and well-documented, as reflected in the Planning

1 Department's General Plan demographic data on persons experiencing homelessness, rent burdens,
2 evictions, and exposure to environmental pollutants, and low homeownership rates.

3 (b) The history of disparate access to homeownership in San Francisco generally mirrors
4 that of the United States. Discriminatory practices of limiting access to wealth accumulation through 5 home purchasing have greatly contributed to wealth gaps. These practices were sustained primarily 6 through residential redlining and restrictive covenants.

7 (c) Residential redlining refers to the discriminatory real estate practices of public and 8 private institutions that identified non-white communities as financially high-risk areas of investment,
9 leading to the withholding of financial services necessary to acquire real estate in communities of 10 color. Racially restrictive covenants were included in property deeds to restrict the racial composition
11 of potential homebuyers. These practices were pervasive and longstanding in San Francisco as well as 12 other areas of the country.

13 (d) The Planning Department's 2023 General Plan, in Objective 2.B, identifies access to 14 homeownership for communities that have been harmed through targeted economic disruption,
15 displacement, and manufactured barriers to accumulating intergenerational wealth.

16 (e) This ordinance intends to provide down payment assistance to communities that have 17 been harmed through targeted economic disruption, displacement, and manufactured barriers to 18 accumulating intergenerational wealth so that San Francisco can address multigenerational inequities
19 in access to homeownership and to narrow and ultimately close homeownership wealth gaps.
